I Wrote That Book

Author: _____

Dear families,

Our class is writing and illustrating picture books! Over the next few weeks, your child will plan a story, draw the pages and add the words.

When the book is finished, the pages come home in a folder. They are yours to keep: folded and stapled, they are a finished paper book.

If you'd like a hardcover (optional)

The app isn't out yet; this is how it works when it opens.

I Wrote That Book is an app that turns the pages into a printed hardcover with your child's name on the cover. At home, a grown-up scans the pages with a phone (about 15 minutes), your child checks the words, and the grown-up orders. A book is $27.99 with US shipping included. A class code can lower the price, sometimes to free.

Ordering is your choice. Nobody needs to order, and the paper book is just as much your child's book.

Our class code: _____

Your child's privacy

- You scan at home under your own account, and the app asks a parent or guardian for consent first, as the US children's privacy law (COPPA) requires. Your child's teacher never uploads your child's work.
- Your child's profile is a first name or nickname only.
- The app has no ads and no tracking. Books are private: there is no public library and no public pages.
- A real person on our team checks every book before it prints.
- Your child's teacher never sees your details, your payment or your address.

More about safety and privacy: iwrotethatbook.com/safety/

Our publishing party is on _____

Please send your child's book (paper or hardcover) to school that day.

Thank you for helping your young author!

Teacher: _____